Stewardship - A Way of Life

April 22, 2018 - 4th Sunday of Easter

“I am the good shepherd...and I lay down my life for the sheep...and they will heed my voice.” – JOHN 10:14-16

When you pray, do you only ask Jesus for the things that you want? Do you ever ask Him what He wants from you? How do you listen for His response? Usually, the answer is in “quiet whispers”, so take time every day, in silence, to actively listen for His response.

St. Mary's Adult & Youth Faith Formation

"Promoting Faith Formation in the Community"

April 22, 2018

Volunteers can sign up for 1-5 days, 8:30—11:30 a.m., June 18-22.

REGISTRATION FORMS AVAILABLE—

Forms were sent home with school and religious education students.

They are also available at our kiosks in the gathering space.

We rely on good babysitters for younger children during bible school so that parents can volunteer. We need at least one more adult and a few teens to help.

We invite you to hear about opportunities to be a part of the St. Mary's Religious Education Program.

On Wednesday, May 16 we are holding an information session. This session will begin at 6:30 p.m. and will be held in our small assembly room at the church.

Our current catechists have personally found being involved to be extremely fulfilling and would like the opportunity to share their experience with you in a casual atmosphere.

If you have any questions and to RSVP by May 9, please give a call at 663-8427, ext 204.

I hope you will prayerfully consider spending just a short time with us. You are welcome to bring a friend along.

LORD, let us see your kindness, and grant us your salvation.

Did you know...?

Thanks to the generosity of Delta Faucet, we have new automatic faucets in all of the student restrooms now. Delta donated all of the faucets and the mixers free of charge. We are very thankful for SMAFA and John Ploeger helping to make the connections to get this wonderful gift for our school.

Over spring break a team of volunteers helped install the new faucets. A big thank you goes out to Steve Greiwe, Kenny Rennekamp, Jim Harmeyer, Bob Kinker, Rick Vanderbur, Ron Lecher, Cole Fuel, David Fuel, Ken Lecher and John Ploeger.

We still need to install the mixing valves for the faucets. Hopefully we can get a time worked out with Dave Geis to get that done this summer.

Golf Fore Faith Ninth Annual Outing!

The Office of Catholic Schools (OCS) is thrilled to host the Golf Fore Faith outing at Crooked Stick Golf Club (CSGC) in Carmel on Monday, May 14, 2018. Proceeds help support the A Promise to Keep program.

Play the course that hosted the top 70 players in the world in September at the 2016 BMW FedEx Championship! The Golf Fore Faith outing provides players the opportunity to compete for prizes and awards like "Closest to the Pin" and "Longest Drive" on select holes. As part of the "Hole-in-one" contest, players will compete for $10,000 in cash on all four par 3 holes!

Play golf or take advantage of an opportunity to advertise your business in the form of sponsorship; we have developed several levels of participation. Sponsorship in this outing provides your organization with name recognition at Crooked Stick on the day of the outing. We can assure you this outing will be "second to none!" How Family Caregivers Can Manage Their Anger:

Try to be clearheaded, compassionate and assertive in the face of frustration.

There are ways for caregivers to thoughtfully harness their anger, rather than lose control of their emotions and have later regrets.

Slow down and breathe. It's a cliché to count to 10 before responding to stressful situations. But giving pause often leads to better decisions. Caregivers are best advised to stop and think through the potential consequences of their actions before lashing out. In those brief moments of reflection — with a few deep, cleansing breaths thrown in — better options than simply blowing up often become clear.

Lead with empathy. Putting ourselves in the shoes of those angering us may seem near-impossible when our dander is up. But it can help us better understand their motives and behaviors and take some of the sting away. If I could have empathized with the limitations and frustrations of the nursing supervisor on my stepfather's dementia unit, for example, I might not have confronted her so aggressively — and may have received more sympathy for my concerns.

Acknowledge sadness. A truism in psychology is that anger is often a cover for sadness. That is, it is frequently much easier for us to pound our fists in anger than to beat our chests in grief. The problem is that expressing anger can lead to defensiveness or schisms among family members. Commiserating together about the sadness that arises when seeing a loved one's decline is a surer way for family members to pull together, support one another and strengthen their relationships going forward.

Turn anger into productive assertiveness. Not all anger is bad. It can be an important signal to us that the caregiving plan is unjust or that we are being mistreated. But it shouldn't be a cue to attack in kind. Rather, it should spur us to think through how to express our concerns firmly and calmly so that those who are offending us are most likely to take in what we have to say. Hopefully, they then respond in a helpful way. If not, we may have to repeat the process — keeping our emotions under bridle, pausing to empathize and planning calmly how to improve a frustrating situation. Barry J. Jacobs, a clinical psychologist and family therapist, is coauthor of the new AARP Meditations for Caregivers: (Da Capo, July 2016).

Fr. John Rausch writes and organizes in Appalachia where he has worked for over 40 years. A strong environmentalist, he speaks out against the devastation of mountaintop removal and advocates for the rights of labor and sustainable economic development. S. Robbie Pentecost, OSF has served Appalachia for 22 years, providing tools and resources for the empowerment of women. Come and learn how Fr. John and S. Robbie are making an impact in Appalachia.

Another driver is needed to help deliver our Sunday Hot Meals. You would be delivering meals once every 4 weeks. Please call Joan 812-663-8427 ext. 205 if you could help us. Thanks!

Our Batesville Deanery Resource Council still need a representative from St. Mary's. This would be someone who supports evangelization and faith formation and would be willing to drive to evening meetings in Batesville every 2 months. The Batesville Deanery Center serves 19 parishes in 6 counties located in the southeastern portion of the Archdiocese of Indianapolis. Our mission seeks to inform, educate and support the faithful Catholics of our Deanery.

We are prayerfully hoping that you can send us someone! If you have any questions, please let me know.
